Spanish War Reaching Most Ruthless Stage

Hundreds Of Non-Combatants Are Victims Of Air Raids Of Vengeance

REBEL AIRCRAFT BOMB MANY TOWNS

Loyalist Flyers Retaliate In Attacks On Other Cities In Spain

(International News Service)

PERPIGNAN, France, Jan. 24.—With vengeance rearing as the prime motive, with airplanes bringing winged death by the ton to hundreds of hapless men, women, and children on either side, the Spanish civil war today was in the midst of one of its most ruthless and horrible stages.

Nearly one thousand non-combatants it was estimated, have been killed since the season of good-will began one month ago today. About one hundred air raids have been carried out.

Raining up and down the eastern Spanish coast from Valencia to the French frontier, rebel aircraft over the week-end attacked Valencia, San De Urdel, Puigcerda, Barcelona, and Barcelona.

Admittedly in retaliation, Loyalist flyers bombed Corts and Seville.

Ferocity In Struggle
Equal ferocity marked the fratricidal struggle on land, centered in the prominent battle for Teruel, where Americans are in the forefront of the fighting on the Loyalist side.

Government forces abandoned hundreds of dead there, according to a broadcast by Gen. Queipo de Llano, insurgent southern commander, from Seville. Only a short

The brown squirrels that roam the trees on Lincoln and Reis are attracting many watchers. Many people walking by stand to watch the animals go through their antics in order not to disturb them.

We learn that the statements that appeared in these columns recently in regard to the dogs of Brown's Addition, South Side, are not altogether peculiar to that section of the city. Quite a few dogs run loose and are on the rampage in sections of the North Hill. Persons state that these "marauders" have done considerable damage to valuable trees, flowers, and lawns and other things that go along to make the residence more beautiful.

Sunday's almost springlike weather caused a large increase in traffic on the highways of this district. The highways are practically clear of snow and ice.

Yesterday was the first anniversary of the record flood on the Ohio river. A year ago yesterday the water reached a stage of over 77 feet at Cincinnati.

A peculiar condition is noted at the intersection of Hazelroft and Albert streets. The bricks in the Hazelroft avenue paving seem to be breaking up into small pieces and scattering over the highway.

Did you ever stop to note the number of new store fronts that have appeared on Washington street in the past few years? A large majority of the buildings have been remodeled in this respect.

Construction of a new highway between this city and Youngstown over the route of the old interurban car line from Edinburg to Lowell. (Continued On Page Two)

Senior High Class Hears Baccalaureate

One of the largest—if not the largest—baccalaureate audiences to attend a local senior class service heard the inspiring sermon on "Frontiers for Modern Youth" which the Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the Second U. P. church on County line street, delivered for the January graduates of Senior high schools Class of 1938 in the Cathedral last night.

The downstairs of the Cathedral was jammed and others filled the high second balcony to hear Rev. Rose in his inaugural appearance before a large community throng.

It was the opening commencement affair for about 224 seniors who will receive diplomas Friday evening, January 28.

With Rev. Rose appeared Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, who gave the invocation and benediction, read the scripture and offered prayer.

On the platform, too, were members of the Senior high school chorus, singing under the direction of Robert Duff. The group sang three numbers, "Call to Worship," "In Joseph's Lovely Garden" and "Cherubim Song." The piano accompanists for the chorus were Miss Jean Chapman and Miss Jean Louise Wright.

Before the service opened, a brief Jesse Nelson Reed played a brief organ recital. The organ sounded, too, as the seniors, cap and gown, filed impressively into and out of the auditorium. Leading them were (Continued On Page Two)

Hawaiian Islands Rocked By Quake

Believe Quakes Were Of Subocean Origin, Ship Reports Feeling Tremor

(International News Service)
HILLO, Hawaii, Jan. 24.—Although volcanologists believed the severe earthquakes which rocked the Hawaiian Islands Saturday night were of subocean origin, a sharp watch was maintained today on Hawaii's famed volcanic craters—Kilauea and Mauna Loa.

Sismologists estimated the epicenter of the quakes as 250 miles south of the islands.

The Dollar Line's President Coolidge, 135 miles at sea, reported feeling both shocks which came at 10:05 P.M. (12:25 A.M. Sunday PST).

Little damage was caused although the quakes were the sharpest felt in the islands for a decade.

Firemen To Have Memorial Service

Annual Event Will Take Place In First M. E. Church On Sunday Evening

Arrangements have been virtually completed for the annual memorial service of the New Castle firemen, which will take place on Sunday evening, January 30, in the First M. E. church, with the pastor, Rev. W. V. McLean, delivering the sermon.

This service, held at this season each year is arranged as a mark of respect to those members of the paid and volunteer departments who have passed on during the year.

TWO SLIGHTLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Clarence Ferris of R. F. D. No. 1 and Robert Mitchell of Mahoning avenue suffered slight injuries in a peculiar accident Sunday morning at 4 o'clock near the former's home.

Ferris was driving when the steering wheel came off the car, causing it to crash into a guard rail. He bumped his face against the dashboard, receiving a cut lip. Mitchell received minor lacerations and bruises.

Recover Body Of Grove City Boy

Child Is Drowned When He Falls Into Airhole In Ice On Wolf Creek

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Jan. 24.—After a search of several hours, volunteer workers located the body of little Richard Urey, aged five, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Urey, who was drowned in Wolf creek when he slipped through an airhole in the ice late Sunday afternoon. The body was recovered at 10:50 o'clock Sunday evening.

Search for the boy went forward under great difficulty, as it was necessary to break up the ice, which had frozen to a depth of five inches, to get to the bottom of the stream with grappling hooks.

The boy was drowned while playing with his brother, Thomas, aged 14, and a sister, Bernice. They were romping about on the ice, when little Richard went down through the hole. His brother, Thomas, tried to save him, but he slipped from his grasp and was carried downstream under the ice by the current.

The body was recovered about 200 yards below where it had disappeared, near the North street bridge. Over a thousand people lined the bank of the stream as police, firemen and volunteer workers carried on the search for the boy's body.

Graduating Class At Senior High School Stages Program During Morning

LIVELY PROGRAM IS HELD IN AUDITORIUM

While the other pupils of the Senior High School stood at attention, the graduating seniors of the school filed to their reserved sections in the school auditorium this morning to begin their Class Day with the usual program of hilarity and fun.

Paul Schooley, master-of-ceremonies for the day, announced the setting for the event and then read the "Salutation."

The curtains parted on a humming lodge scene at Lake Placid on January 24, 1938, disclosing a group of 24-25 students gathered to enjoy a week end of skating, skiing, and fun.

"I'm In A Sentimental Mood" was played by Rod Williams and his school orchestra, as the program began. The boys in the band also played a popular swing-time melody, "Quaker City Jazz."

Class History Given
Class History was read by Pauline Lynch. Miss Esther Schmetzinger entertained with a tap dance. A reading, "The Elucidation" was given by Virginia Mariana.

Class Prophecy was read by Kathryn Boya. An original arrangement of "Marie" was sung by Dick Johns, senior class president. A highlight of the program was a guitar solo, "Alcohol-De," played by Verna Mae McGuffie.

The Senior A trio, consisting of Leanna Morgan, Marion Butler, and Jeanne Harland, sang, "The Morning After." Pat Chapman entertained.

Chinese General Is Beheaded Today

General Han Fu-Chu, Former Governor Of Shantung Province Is Executed

(International News Service)
HANKOW, China, Jan. 24.—With the most expensive coffin obtainable waiting for his body, General Han Fu-Chu, former governor of Shantung province, was beheaded today.

The disgraced military chieftain went to his death calmly. His only words before the axe descended on his neck were of prayer to the ancestors he was soon to join.

Han Fu-Chu was sentenced to death by a court martial for disobedience of military orders in permitting an unauthorized retreat when the Japanese surged into Tsingtao.

In recognition of his former high position, Han Fu-Chu was provided with an ornate lacquered coffin with delicate hand filigree work.

Chinese Massing Huge Force To Battle Advance Of Invading Japs

(BULLETIN)

SHANGHAI, Jan. 24.—In zero weather—an enemy almost as formidable as the human foe—through knee-deep snow and across frozen streams, 100,000 Japanese advanced today for the most extensive and probably most important battle of the war.

With preliminary brushes already in progress, the front extended some 300 miles along the vital Langkai railroad, China's "jugular vein," south of Peiping.

There the Chinese have massed 15 fuel divisions, numbering more than 300,000 men. They are bolstered with artillery and with an air force including American and Soviet pilots.

Japanese Best Equipped
To combat this numerically greater force, the Japanese contingent is equipped with the most modern mechanical and lethal aids.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Business recession, the plight of the hard coal industry and proposals for a Japanese boycott considered major policy problems as some 1,500 delegates gathered here today for the regular biennial convention of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers of America.

Representing the half million membership of the UMW, the delegates poured in by train today, looked over their union's new home—a $250,000 building purchased last year—and prepared for a ten-day business and policy discussion opening tomorrow. Lewis, UMW president and chairman of the CIO, will open the convention with an address. A meeting of the 25-man UMW executive board today will dispose of routine internal matters.

One Man Escapes From Lake In Canada And Goes For Help, Had Been Hunting

(International News Service)
ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Jan. 24.—Only one man was alive today of a party of six returning from a weekend at a Lake Champlain camp. The others drowned in the lake when their car crashed through its ice surface.

William Craig, 60, host at the camp, was driving the sedan, lost his bearings and turned onto the lake.

Joseph Gibson got out through a window, came up under the ice, fought his way to a hole broken through by the car and pulled himself to safety. He ran more than a mile to get help.

But when a rescue party reached the spot there was no sign of Craig, Albert Storr, 70; Louis Hivon, 55; Ralph Howe, 40; or Carlton McCurdy, 24.

Several hours later, the party of nearly 200 searchers recovered the bodies of the drowned men where they had been trapped beneath the ice.

People Of Japan Are Determined Theirs Shall Be Greatest Nation Ever Known Asserts Knickerbocker

Editor's Note: The people of Japan are determined to make theirs "the greatest nation ever known." H. R. Knickerbocker, the noted foreign correspondent of International News Service, disclosed in the following article. In this, the seventh of a series "The Yellow Lighthouse and Red Storm Warnings," Knickerbocker tells of the driving ambition behind Japan's campaign of expansion as evidenced in cities he visited on a 12,500 mile trip across Asia and Europe on his way back to Paris after months spent in covering the war in Shanghai.

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Tokio teaches you Japan is at war now with China and may be at war tomorrow with any one of the three nations she considers her potential enemies.

Soviet Russia, Great Britain or America.

Seventy million Japanese believe that Japan is fighting a righteous war of self-defense in China, and that she must fight for her life against the white world which wants to crush her. They believe Japan was attacked by China at England's instigation, and that England, as well as the Soviet Union is helping China, illegally and contrary to the laws of neutrality, out of envy and fear of Japan.

Japan's Idea
They believe that Chiang Kai-Shek, who is about as Communist as General Iwane Matsui or the Japanese emperor himself, is a red gangster whose armed thugs deliberately murdered Japanese officers and soldiers and massacred hundreds of Japanese civilians. They believe that if they had not made war on China every Japanese on the continent would have been slaughtered by the Chinese.

They believe that America is an arrogant but pusillanimous nation with a big head, inordinate greed, a second class navy, and a great fear of Japan. They are still deeply insulted by our exclusion of Japanese immigrants. They believe they have already outstretched us in our only talent, for applied science, mechanics and industry. They agree with the Chinese that we have no culture.

They believe that the Ymato race, as they call it, has a cosmic mission, to purify the world with the Ymato spirit. They believe the white race is degenerate, cowardly, pacifistic and that it is the divine duty of Japan to take that leadership of humanity which up until now the whites have exercised.

Believe Emperor Is A God
Above all, they truly believe that their emperor is a god and since he is a Japanese god, peace and heavenly contentment throughout the earth can only come when his divine majesty rules all mankind. Sixty-five thousand police help (Continued On Page Thirteen)

Leviathan To Start Final Ocean Trip

(International News Service)
HOBOKEN, N. J., Jan. 24.—Only a minor labor dispute stood today between the Leviathan—once the finest de luxe passenger liner afloat—and a Scottish scrap heap.

The vessel, which for three years has lain idle at a pier here since she was cashed out of service because of too expensive operating cost, was to have sailed yesterday for Rosyth, Scotland, to be scrapped by a Glasgow metal firm.

A dispute over wages arose between Canadian and British seamen, the Leviathan entered the merchant hired to work the ship on its last sailing and pending its settlement, the Leviathan's departure was held up.

Only One Passenger
When the liner does leave for her final home she will carry only one passenger and he, ironically, will be the representative of a London auctioneering firm, whose time will be spent in estimating the value of the ship's furnishings and equipment.

The Leviathan's history is shadowed with interest. Launched in Germany in 1914 as the Vandal, the vessel was interned in New York at the outbreak of the war. Upon entrance of America into the war, the liner became a troop ship and ferried some 36,000 doughboys across the "big pond." Following the armistice, the Leviathan entered the merchant marine. After figuring in a congressional investigation into the details of the liner's transfer from the government to private operators, the Leviathan did yeoman service for years in the Atlantic passenger service.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Jan. 24.—Hundreds of families were abandoning their homes here today as flood waters inundated wide areas of the city.

Many others, unable to get born transportation, were marooned in their houses.

Two frozen creeks, tributaries of the Rock river, were flooded by a 12-hour downpour and the waters poured into Rockford's southeast end district in some cases covering the tops of automobiles.

Storm sewers backed up and the waters crept to the top of stores and residences.

An ice jam which threatened to break, now miles north on the Rock river, further added to the danger of the city.

May Recognize Italian Conquest

Britain-U. S. Action Looms

Believe Move Would Be Necessary Step In Plan For European Peace

IMMEDIATE ACTION DEEMED UNLIKELY

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The United States has secretly agreed to recognize the Italian conquest of Ethiopia whenever Great Britain is prepared to do so, International News Service is able to reveal today.

Word to this effect was sent to the British government over the week-end from Washington. Immediate British recognition, however, is deemed unlikely.

President Roosevelt's decision to give this assurance followed a strong appeal from Britain to do so in the interests of general European peace.

Recognition Necessary

British authorities have emphasized to Washington that it would be hopeless to obtain Italy's participation in any European peace settlement without general recognition of the new Italian empire in Africa.

To this appeal, the United States replied in a confidential memorandum. It was pointed out that recognition would mean a serious loss of face for the United States in view of the strong stand this far taken by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Nevertheless, it was stated the American government is prepared to recognize Ethiopia when Britain does likewise if such action will aid in general appeasement of Europe.

As a result of the American communication, a cabinet meeting was summoned for 6:30 p. m. (1:30 p. m. E. S. T.) to discuss the situation before Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden departs for Geneva for the League of Nations Council meeting.

time after their arrival in the battle line, two new brigades were completely decimated, he said.

The Barcelona radio admitted that the rebels succeeded in forcing a "slight modification" of the Loyalist lines south of Muleton, just outside Teruel.

Further north, the insurgents claimed slow gains—four miles in a week of unceasing warfare. Government troops were forced back over the River Aribaba, and rebel outposts reached the villages of Villanueva Baja and Tortosa, on the right bank of the stream.

Americans Suffer Heavily

Americans fighting in the international brigades for the Loyalists suffered heavy losses, the insurgents asserted.

Eleven children, three women and two men, according to a rebel broadcast, were killed when Loyalist bombing squadrons, on a mission of revenge, dropped five tons of bombs on Seville.

Two government airplanes dropped several bombs on the waterfront at Ceuta, Morocco, where Moroccan troops were embarking for Algeria to fight for the insurgents.

Risking trouble with France, 14 insurrectionary bombers dropped ten explosive missiles on French territory during the raid on Puigcerda, important railroad station at the frontier.

French anti-aircraft batteries repelled and drove off the "invaders".

Two Italian warships bearing Spanish names were among five Spanish craft which shelled Valencia from five miles at sea. Loyalist dispatches from Barcelona alleged. At that range, the 14 shells thrown into the port city did little damage.

One of 50 raids which have terrorized the Loyalist coast in the last fortnight aroused terrified Barcelona at 6 a. m. today daily occurrence. These attacks have turned Barcelona metropolis of 1,000,000 into a city of constant dread.

Seven government airplanes, according to the rebels, were destroyed in a raid on the Barajas airport.

FACTS ABOUT INCOME TAX

HOW TO AVOID COMMON ERRORS

The period for the filing of income tax returns covering the calendar year 1937 began January 1 and ends at midnight of March 15, 1938. To file early is of mutual benefit to the government and the taxpayer.

Within this period are filed annually millions of individual income tax returns, a large proportion of which report income subject to the tax. The latter contain a considerable percentage of errors, which if uncorrected by the audit would result in the disadvantage of the taxpayer.

Many are errors of computation easily discovered on the face of the return, which usually is accompanied by a payment of more than the amount of tax due. In other returns it is readily discernible that the taxpayer has failed to take advantage of the personal exemption, credit allowed for dependents, or deductions from gross income to which he is entitled.

To avoid these and other errors, the Bureau of Internal Revenue urges careful reading of the instructions accompanying the forms for filing the returns. Additional information, if needed, may be obtained at the office of a collector of internal revenue, deputy collector, or an internal revenue agent in charge.

Revenue officers for assistance in preparing returns should bring with them a copy of their prior year return. Also, as a further aid in the preparation of a correct income tax return for the year 1937, the bureau has prepared a series of short newspaper articles, of which this is the first, advising the salaried man, wage earner, professional and businessman—in fact, every class of individual taxpayer—of his rights and privileges as interpreted under the latest regulations, rulings and decisions relating to the income tax law.

Deaths of the Day

W. B. Miles Services.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon for William B. Miles of 721 Croton avenue. The rites took place in the Platteville Presbyterian church with the pastor, Rev. J. Leslie Bell, in charge.

The beautiful "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Abide With Me" were sung by Mrs. Bertha Locke, Mrs. Mary Dight, Charles Eppinger and Rev. Bell, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Bertha Rodgers.

Palbearers were William P. Travers, Samuel McCurdy, Jack Ward, Kirk Williams, Sherman Wilmer and Willis Majors. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Funeral of Infant.

Services for William James Wagner, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Wagner of the Elwood road, took place at the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarence Miller, Leasure avenue, on Saturday afternoon. Dr. G. S. Bennett, of the First Christian church was in charge.

Palbearers were Richard Gilmore, David Marvin, David Taylor and Raymond Coates. Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

Rees Llewellyn.

Rees Llewellyn, aged 65 years, of 617 Raymond street, died at the home on Sunday morning at 4 o'clock after a long illness. He had been confined to bed since November.

Mr. Llewellyn was born in South Wales on September 3, 1872, son of William and Mary Coth Llewellyn. He was a tin worker all of his life.

Coming to America in 1895 he first worked at Cleveland, O., then, four years later, he came to New Castle and was one of the men to help start the Shenango tin mill.

He was a member of the First Congregational church and of the True Iovites of America, Star of Wales Lodge.

His wife, Anne Nichols Llewellyn, three nephews and one niece, Thomas, Harold, Raymond and Florence Llewellyn, of Youngstown, O., survive.

The body has been taken to the Jos. B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, where friends may call and where services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. Rev. C. H. Heaton, D.D., of the First Baptist church, will be in charge.

Interment will be made in Castle View Burial Park.

John Rapone Funeral

High mass of requiem for the late John Rapone, of West Pittsburgh, was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Denis A. Boyle, of the Providence hospital, Beaver Falls, in Holy Cross church, West Pittsburg, at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Palbearers were Tom Carangi, James Trock, Frank Sparr, Humbert Contri, Frank Caravella and Andre Matcontino. Interment was made in St. Lucy's cemetery, Mahoningtown.

Conti Baby Buried.

Funeral services for little George Edward Conti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Conti of Cherry street, were conducted in the residence Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the presence of family friends and relatives.

Rev. Andrew J. Koonce, pastor of Union Valley Presbyterian church, was in charge. Palbearers were Edward, Chester and Norman Trudon, of Joe Conti. Interment was made in Little Beaver cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Ann Dadds.

Mrs. Margaret Ann Stevenson Dadds, aged 84 years, widow of Thomas I. Dadds, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Wyman, 702 Chestnut street, at 12 o'clock noon Sunday, ending six months of illness.

Mrs. Dadds' husband died nine years ago. She was a member of the Second United Presbyterian church of this city and had long been a New Castle resident.

Five daughters, Mrs. Nannie Reinhardt of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mrs. Ella McBride of Grove City, Mrs. Frank Ziegler of Hubbard, O., Mrs. L. E. Sherman of Hollidays Cove, Va., and Mrs. Wyman of New Castle, survive.

Funeral services will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wyman, Chestnut street, Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, with Rev. J. Calvin Rose of the Second U. P. church in charge. Further services on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the Prospect U. P. church and interment in the church cemetery.

Steve Murawski

A heart attack took the life of Steve Murawski, 54, of 3221 Mahoning avenue, at 12:20 a. m. today in the residence. He had been in his usual health until the sudden attack. A few minutes previous he had been upstairs in his home, then came down, took a chair by a table and engaged in conversation with his wife. Rising, he walked toward the door and collapsed.

Mr. Murawski, born in Austria, came to this country when a lad of 16 years. He became a tin worker and for years had been with the Shenango Works. He had an excellent knowledge of languages and was well known in New Castle as an interpreter, having assisted various lawyers in this capacity. He was a member of St. Joseph's church, the Russian-American lodge, the Kasimir-Pulaski and St. Michael's lodge.

His wife, Mariana Kolodzirski Murawski, four sons, Leonard, Albert, Anthony and Adam, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Frank Studnicki and Mrs. Thomas Felso, of this city, and three grandchildren, survive. A son, Joe F., died in January, 1937.

Requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 a. m. Wednesday in St. Joseph's church, the party leaving the home at 9:30, and interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Mary Catherine Barrea

Mary Catherine, 7-day-old daughter of Edward and Mary Lenhart Barrea, of 413 Hutchinson street, was laid to rest in St. Joseph's cemetery, Saturday afternoon, following services in St. Michael's church.

The infant died on Friday night at 10:55. The parents, one brother, Thomas, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lenhart, all of this city, survive.

William Francis Quigley.

William Francis Quigley, aged 37 years, of Hoydale, died at 7 a. m. Sunday at his home after a week of pneumonia. The death of the young man was a shock to the community where he was so well liked.

He was a foreman for the Caverly Wire Company and had been with the company for twenty years. His mother, Mrs. Martin Quigley, of Hoydale, a sister, Mrs. Glen Rose of New Brighton, and two brothers, Thomas of Youngstown, O., and John of Elwood City, survive.

Funeral mass will be celebrated at St. Theresa church, Hoydale, by Rev. F. A. Maloney, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Supreme Court Offers Ruling

Hold Unconstitutional Act Of May 21, 1937, Regarding County Judges

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—The state supreme court today declared unconstitutional the act of May 21, 1937, authorizing county court judges to sit in the court of oyer and terminer.

Justice William B. Linn handed down an opinion directing that a writ of prohibition be issued on the petition of District Attorney Andrew D. Park, Allegheny county, to prevent the assignment of a county judge to the court of oyer and terminer in that county.

"Although the writ of prohibition is granted," read Justice Linn's opinion, "we shall assume, until further advised, it will be unnecessary formally to cause the writ to be issued."

Bank Directors Select Officers

Directors of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company held their organization meeting on Saturday afternoon, January 22, and named the officers to head the bank for the coming year. The election resulted as follows:

Chairman of the board, E. E. McGill.

President, Thomas H. Hartman; vice presidents, Charles H. Johnson, Jr., and F. A. Schulz; treasurer and trust officer, S. A. Weinschen; secretary, A. W. Thindall; assistant secretary and treasurer, J. C. Miner; assistant trust officer, T. L. Nixon; auditor, C. C. Headland; solicitors, Huggs, Caldwell and McFate.

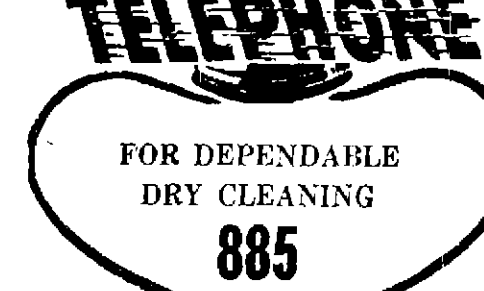

The Bessmer State Bank also held its organization meeting with the following officers named: President, Adolph Green; vice presidents, Roy C. Wallis and James A. Taylor; cashier, Charles Weitz; assistant cashier, V. I. Mandlin.

MANUFACTURER IS DEAD AT MEADVILLE

(International News Service)

MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 24.—Col. Lewis L. Walker, 83, president of Talon, Inc., manufacturers of hookless fasteners, died at his home here today.

Col. Walker became interested in hookless fasteners at the Chicago World's Fair in 1893 and organized the company which has expanded to one of more than 4,000 with three plants in Meadville and one in Erie.

air strength at present is 1800 planes but actually the navy has only 1100 effective fighting ships.

3. Provision for beginning immediate construction of a fleet of 42 auxiliary vessels, vitally needed, according to Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson, to refuel and otherwise supply the fleet when it is operating at sea away from its land bases. Swanson recently reported to the president that the navy's auxiliary vessels are antiquated and unable to perform their duties.

Two New Battleships.

4. Construction of two new battleships in addition to the two already under construction and the two authorized in the naval supply bill now pending before the senate; two new "pocket-size" aircraft carriers, two super-fast "express" cruisers of a revolutionary new type and a number of destroyers and submarines.

5. Speeding up of the navy's modernization program with a supplementary appropriation of $25,000,000 to obtain anti-aircraft artillery and machine guns, tanks, heavy mobile artillery, semi-automatic rifles of a sub-machine gun type with which to equip every doughboy, gas masks and ammunition reserves.

Seventy-four warships are now under construction in American navy, and 22 fighting ships are authorized under the pending $533,000,000 naval appropriation measure for the 1939 fiscal year. These include two battleships armed with 16-inch guns, two light cruisers, eight destroyers and six submarines and four smaller craft.

A strong possibility lay that the United States will decide to denounce the 35,000-ton limitation for outship displacement, provided under the 1936 naval agreement with Great Britain and France, and build the new battleships in excess of 40,000 tons, mounting 12 instead of nine 16-inch guns—or even 18-inch guns.

ZERO WEATHER SLOWS UP DRIVE BY JAPANESE

Hsuehchow, at the junction of the Lunghai and Tsinpu lines, Kwetch and Chengchow, junction of the Lunghai and Kintan lines.

Success of this last drive would put Japan in control of half of China's most vital east-west communications.

Weather Handicap

The Lunghai battle will mark the first time that troops from seven scattered provinces will fight side by side as a single army against the Japanese.

So far the Japanese have met the most fierce resistance in the frigid weather at the Suchow sector of the Lunghai front.

Snow and ice have held back the Japanese supply services. At one point it was reported, Japanese aviators attempting to cross a river on the ice after bridges were destroyed, crashed, through and many lost their lives from freezing.

Chinese forces attacking southwest of Shantung reportedly recaptured Liangshiang and commenced another offensive against Tsinling.

Chinese airplanes twice raided Wuhu, on the Yangtze river. Other sporadic clashes were reported 75 miles north of Nanking.

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.
HOW CHILD GROWS
THE CHILD is not just a small edition of the adult. He is different from the adult in every fiber, every blood corpuscle, every bone cell, and in the relative proportion of all his parts. His resistance to disease and power of recovery from it, his food and rest and sleep requirements are all unlike those of the adult. The newborn child is chiefly trunk and head. His head is as broad from side to side as his shoulders. His legs are very short. Most of his vital organs are far nearer their adult size than are his height and weight. His brain at birth is one-eighth of his entire weight, half as big as it ever will be. Suppose adults were one-eighth grown! A boy seven or eight years old is a man-size hat, and at 15, a man-size shoe. The baby's liver is one-eighth of his weight; the adult's one-third-sixth.

RE-EMPLOYMENT THE PRESSING ISSUE
REPORT of Secretary of Labor Perkins showing that factory employment dropped 500,000 in December is evidence of the need of prompt and decisive efforts to end the industrial recession and revive recovery.
No issue before the country today is so compelling as recovery and re-employment. Encouraging as are the increasing number of contacts between the White House and business leaders, such conferences are not likely to be of practical assistance to the unemployed unless they are translated into action and the instilling of widespread confidence in the future.
The suggestion of John D. Biggers, director of the recent Unemployment Census, that an emergency agency be created to supply co-operative planning for re-employment merits consideration. Such an agency, as Mr. Biggers' told senate investigators into jobless conditions, should be made up of legislative, executive, labor, industrial and agricultural elements.

Lung Capacity Differs
While girls from 11 to 14 exceed boys in height and weight, they trail the boys in lung capacity at every age. Not so much difference between boys and girls of primitive peoples.
The muscular system of the newborn is about one-fifth its weight; of the adult, about two-fifths. Much that is rigid bone in the adult was soft cartilage in the infant. The jaw is not completely hardened into bone until after puberty; hence deformities of the lower part of the face may be caused or cured up to that time.
The first tooth usually appears between the age of six and seven months, earlier in girls than in boys, as a rule. The first set of teeth are all formed in the jaws before the baby's birth. The mother's health and diet during pregnancy and while nursing the baby determine the soundness of his teeth.

After keeping a handcarved coffin for himself for over 30 years, an Australian has finally died at the ripe old age of 80. For many years he slept in the coffin, but finally returned to a bed. There was a man who must have been very certain he was going to die, and he probably lived accordingly. Most mortals in this country live as if they never expect to die.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

"No sah, judge, she licked me this time."
No wonder men like to see a woman drunk. It's a reflection on your judgment when a creature you worship gets soused.
The government, it appears, isn't after all rich people, but just the bad ones. The bad ones can be recognized by their Republican label.
How consoling to reflect, when the government cripples you, that it wasn't shooting at anybody but the wicked.
The great man says nothing great when we meet him face to face. Ah, well, you can't get a spark by striking flint against a cloud.
For saying he would have his adversary "on his knees," a man in Cologne, Germany has been found guilty of slander. The court ruled a German never gets down on his knees and whoever makes such a remark implies he is un-German and so slanders his honor as a man. Now the real reason, probably is that a German is just too bull-headed to get down on his knees.
WE'VE MET HIM TOO

Chauncy M. Depew would have made an ideal WPA worker. Chauncy, who lived to a ripe old age, had the following to say about exercise: "Whenever I feel like it, I just go someplace and lie down until the feeling goes away."

By LESLIE EICHEL, Central Press Columnist.
HOW GOES THE WORLD?
Nearly everyone a person needs asks that. Coming to work this morning, we read and checked these "items" in The Living Age, a magazine which gathers quotations from all over the world as a partial answer.
The first article is by a writer in the London Daily Herald:
"My purpose in coming to Poland four weeks ago was to try to find the truth behind the persistent reports reaching London of terrorism and internal revolt, and of fears of a Fascist coup which would affect the European balance of power."
"I found," an after-report, "a tense with anxiety and fear. Since then there has been some temporary easing of the tension, but men of the democratic parties still speak of politics in whispers and only behind closed doors. They are, they tell me, being followed and spied upon; they move about Warsaw secretly, in fear of their lives. Leaders opposed to the present government, which is Fascist in all but name, ventured to discuss conditions with me only under the closest secrecy, behind closed and locked doors. Not one dared to meet me in a public place; interviews took place only in the privacy of my hotel bedroom, which came to resemble a conspirators' den."
"Before entering, men anxiously scrutinized the corridor outside; inside, they spoke in low tones in case they might be heard in adjacent rooms. I was urged to speak cautiously and vaguely on the telephone. 'You never can tell who is listening,' I was asked not to write down their names for fear my notes might fall into the wrong hands."
"One of the most prominent democratic leaders told me gravely and soberly: 'We do not know what tomorrow will bring. No one in opposition is sure when he goes to bed tonight that he will be alive tomorrow morning.' On all sides

Of perhaps somewhat less moment was Mr. Biggers' warning that because of the rapidity of the business decline there might be an upsurge of recovery which would be too much in the nature of a boom to be a real help to the country. It is undoubtedly true that a sudden flash-in-the-pan recovery would not bring the stability of employment and production which the nation so greatly needs. But the first great essential is to stop the downward trend in employment and get the jobless back to work. There is no necessity to cross the boom bridge until we get to it.

The lesson to be drawn from Secretary Perkins' report and from Mr. Biggers' statement to the Senate Committee appears to be that no time should be wasted and no opportunities overlooked for a union of efforts directed toward increased industrial production and employment.

It would be really effective if the president, having heard at first hand from various leaders of industry and labor, were to embody in a direct statement to the country the constructive views he has been represented as offering at these meetings and at his press conferences.

Present unemployment conditions are not a theory. They demand action. They require that the government release the brakes on industry and let business go ahead under its own power. Only the administration can perform this constructive act.

WEEDING OUT THE UNFIT
Governor George H. Earle has found an opportunity to force certain drivers to prove they are entitled to annual issue of operating licenses which may have been originally obtained a good many years ago by ordering that all motorists found guilty in serious accidents will have to submit to re-examination. Governor Earle contends that many drivers suffer physical infirmities after taking their operating examinations and consequently are unfit to continue driving.

There is no doubt as to the truth of the governor's contention. Although he won't be able to catch all the unfit drivers by his campaign and his program may be a case of cure rather than prevention, it is a step in the right direction. We should like to see the program extended to force all drivers to submit to periodic re-examination so that the incapable will be weeded out and measures to safety removed.

WHAT DO WE WANT?
Since 1931 the National Education Association has had a committee working on social-economic goals for America. Their effort is one of many to define answers to the question "What do we want for America?"

Now the association and its committee have capsuled the whole program in simple form for school discussion. The ten goals, which the teachers believe "thoughtful Americans desire for themselves and their posterity," may be summarized as follows:

- 1.—Hereditary strength—that everyone shall be wellborn under conditions that will conserve his innate strengths and capacities.
- 2.—Physical security—that everyone shall be protected against accident and disease.
- 3.—Culture-skills and knowledge—that every individual shall master those skills and knowledge that will enable him to use and enjoy the culture of the group.
- 4.—Culture-values and outlooks—that everyone shall be put in possession of the values, standards, and outlooks that reflect the experience of the race.
- 5.—An active, flexible personality—that everyone shall have such opportunities as will foster initiative, ability to meet new problems, weigh facts, resist prejudice, and act co-operatively.
- 6.—Suitable occupation—that everyone shall be enabled to use his skill where it will mean most to himself and society.
- 7.—Economic security—that everyone shall enjoy a minimum income that will provide a reasonable standard of living.
- 8.—Mental security—that everyone, especially in childhood and adolescence, shall have affection, toleration, and understanding of life needs that will foster the best development of personality.
- 9.—Freedom—that everyone shall enjoy the widest freedom that is compatible with the equal freedom of others.
- 10.—Fair play and equal opportunity—that everyone shall act and expect others to act in conformity with the highest good of all.

This is an effort to provide a yardstick by which we may measure any specific proposal. Does a proposed plan tend to bring to reality any of the lofty ideals noted above? Does it tend to hinder the development of any?

By such a standard one may well pause the multitude of panaceas which swirl about in a confused world. It is good to see that America's teachers are active in offering so bright and so precise a yardstick.

That senate committee, after prolonged inquiry, will probably conclude that there is some unemployment.

BEAUTY IN EGGPLANTS
There's a man in my state who finds beauty almost everywhere. He's a photographer and he's not so much interested in taking pictures of beautiful things as in taking beautiful pictures of things.
So he photographs old tin cans, piles of sewer pipes, green peppers, abalone shells, wave-worn rocks, almost anything that meets his eye. Even of eggplants.
He photographs them in just the right light, from the right angle, and gives you BEAUTY you didn't know was there.
I've seen a photograph of a steamer of help on a shiny beach in the twilight, and it was mysteriously, snakily, lovely. . . I hardly know why, but I know he made it like that. . . I'd walk that way and see that kelp and pick it up and pop the little pear-shaped fruit of the kelp and swing it around my head and forget all about it. He comes along and sees a beauty that was lost on me—and makes a picture of it.
"I can see it, as plain as anything. . . But HE had to show it for me. I'm looking for the big bursts of beauty that anyone can see. But he's looking for it everywhere; he can find it in a great old tree, in a gorgeous sunset, but he can find it, also, in all the little neglected places. Most of us recognize the obvious beauty of well-shaped chins and regular noses; this man sees the beauty of character in faces we might dismiss as commonplace.

What Noted People Say

NEW YORK—Gov. Wilbur L. Cross, of Connecticut, recommends the "Christian way" to politicians. "Never should a man at the head of government stand either labor or capital. . . The only way to govern a people is by persuasion, not by force."

NEW YORK—Tommy Farr, of Wales, disputes the verdict that he was beaten by James J. Braddock in their 10-round battle: "What does a man have to do to get a decision, kill somebody?"

NEW YORK—Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson urges America to prepare for any eventuality: "If war comes tomorrow, we do not feel certain that we could properly equip more than 300,000 men."

How do you know your thinking is done by your brain? Only your stomach has sense enough to reject a bad mixture.

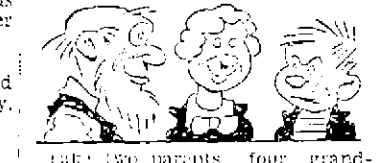

Government scientists have just discovered they made a little error in regard to the age of the ocean. They say it's anywhere from a hundred and forty millions to three hundred and forty millions of years older. Shucks, what does a little mistake like that amount to.

If a lot of the merchandise which is advertised over the radio is no better than the silly hokum one hears on the programs which boost it, it must have a terrible effect on the stomach or something.

UNCLE ABNER SAYS:

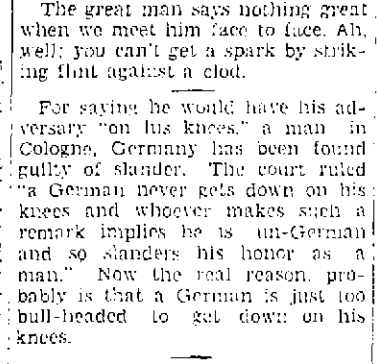

If it's true that single men don't tell as many fibs as married men it's only 'cause they ain't asked as many questions.
Kinda looks as if th' Labor Relations Board was cut on th' bias.

Mr. Farnsworth, socially inclined, addressed her daughter, "My dear," she said, "I have picked out a husband for you."
"Very well," replied the daughter graciously, "but I'm telling you quite emphatically that when it comes to getting the wedding dress, I shall insist upon picking out the material."
How much honor have you? Well, does a pudge to the church seem as binding as one you can be forced to pay?

Good Taste
Reg. U. S. Patent Office

Dear Miss Markel—I have been married for two months and have not yet had time to acknowledge my wedding gifts, as I have been busy arranging for my new home and accepting so many invitations. Is it now too late for me to write "thank you" notes? BRIDE.

Answer—Nothing should delay immediate acknowledgment of wedding gifts. Oh, the day of each gift's receipt, a letter should be sent to its donor. Never should a bride-to-be wait until her gifts accumulate so that their acknowledgment becomes a hardship; nor should she delay this duty until her return from her honeymoon. Her breeding and social graces will be judged by her promptness in responding to those who so thoughtfully contributed to her collection of bride gifts.

However, a delayed "thank you" is better than none at all, so by all means send yours without further delay and make the most plausible excuse that you can conjure up for the tardiness.

Dear Miss Markel—Is the bride supposed to supply the dresses for her attendants? H. D.

Answer—The attendants should supply their own dresses, unless the bride is wealthy and offers to do so. Courtesy, 1930, by Watkins-Strauss, Inc.

Just Folks
By EDGAR A. GUEST

A BOY REBELS
I'm just a boy, turned half-past seven.
But I'll be glad when I'm eleven
And gladder when I'm older grown
To have opinions of my own.

It isn't any fun to be
A curly-headed boy like me
And have to smile when fathers say
"Well, how's my little man today?"

I find it rather hard to run
When strangers hold me by the chin.
And turn me around and then exclaim:
"Now there's a boy that's worth the name!"

My mother's pleased as she can be
When crowns make a fuss of me.
But when I'm fairly driven me wild
By shrieking, "What a pretty child!"

Since I must always be polite
To grownups, whether wrong or right,
The old folks should be taught to greet
A boy correctly when they meet.

They should be told they mustn't say
"Well, how's my little man today?"
And if they'd have politeness shown
They ought to leave his chin alone.

Words of Wisdom

Good manners and good morals are sworn friends and fast allies—Bartol.

Once Upon Jan. 24th—A professional humorist is not a man you'd expect to be a notable inventor. Yet Charles Henry Webb, who was born 104 years ago today at Roswell, Point, Clinton county, New York, was both.

He was supporting himself writing humorous pieces for newspapers at 17, when wanderlust sent him out on a 3 1/2-year voyage on a whaler. On his return, he followed his family westward, but his satiric contributions to Chicago newspapers attracted the attention of the editor of the New York Tribune. But his intention was divided between writing and mechanics, and his mind proved as productive of notable patents as of humor. His earliest-issued machine was bought by Remington Arms Co. His adding machine, the first to use a rubber, was recognized by the Patent Office as the fundamental invention in the field.

Webb also became an inventor with patents to his credit.

Pair Die On Iowa Gallows

Two Young Convicted Slay-ers Executed At Fort Madison, Iowa

(International News Service)
FORT MADISON, Ia., Jan. 24.—With one of them actually smiling on the gallows, John M. Mercer, 29, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Allen B. Wheaton, 21, of Rapid City, S. D., quietly paid with their lives today for Iowa murders they committed separately in 1936 and 1937. They were plunged simultaneously through parallel trap doors on the 20-foot scaffold at exactly 7:18 1/2 a. m.

The two were dead within 23 minutes.

Mercer was pronounced dead at 7:25 a. m., and Wheaton fifteen minutes later at 7:40 by Dr. L. E. Bees and Dr. H. E. O'Neil.

Both Men Calm

Both men were calm, fulfilling their promises to "take what's coming to us without a whimper," but Mercer was the more nonchalant of the two. He actually smiled as the noose was adjusted about his neck.

Both men rejected chances to make final statements.

It was a grim episode, the second in history in which the state of Iowa has taken two lives at once. The two hangings expiated the murders of Robert G. Sprout, Tipton, Ia., vigilante whom Mercer shot down August 8, 1936, while fleeing a Des Moines, Ia., drug store holding, and Henry Plummer, Council Bluffs, Ia., oil station proprietor, whom Wheaton ruthlessly killed June 11, 1936, after kidnapping and robbing him.

Both confessed the crimes.

of the press. The fact that wage increases have been stopped and that it is no longer necessary to conduct endless negotiations with union leaders is regarded as an undeniable blessing.

"On the other hand, they deeply resent the merciless tax collections and the extortion of 'voluntary' contributions by the National Socialist party or its subsidiaries. Tax returns are made out far more conscientiously now than they were under the Weimar republic or the empire because of the severity of the penalties for false reports. One well known firm, despite its important party connections and large government contracts, will have to pay off four million marks in tax penalties in the next four years. This means that 90 per cent of the firm's profits will have to be paid to the state during this period.

"Another firm received a visit from an official of the Winter Aid, who said to the manager: 'Last year you paid 15,000 marks to the Winter Aid. This year we have put you down for 20,000 marks. The manager stated that business had not been as good as in the previous year but that he was willing to pay the same amount as before. He was curtly interrupted by the Nazi official, who said: 'You refuse to pay 20,000 marks? All right, then, you will have to pay 25,000.' And the 25,000 marks were actually paid.

"An industrialist told me that he made occasional trips abroad merely to write confidential letters which he did not want to send through the German mail. The answers were held for him abroad until he had a chance to call for them. Many other persons complained to me that even the domestic mail was often opened."

JAPANESE VIEW

Then, there is this from the Japan Weekly Chronicle of Kobe:

"It is no use blinking the fact that in the next war there will be no non-combatants.

"We have developed war past the point where it can be controlled by rules.

How on earth is it possible to regard the dum-dum as an atrocity while high explosives scatter men's bowels about them? Why is a rifle or two along a bayonet's edge brutal, but a hand-grenade lawful, and why—above all—is it so dreadful to attack the wounded? There is every excuse for refusing to permit the enemy to pick up his wounded when the only purpose is to patch them up as quickly as possible and return them to the firing line. Then, what is there about gas which makes 16-inch shells preferable?

"But the conduct of war is not a matter which lends itself to logic."

Girl Orchestra Members Enter Texas Convent

Quit Dance Band Platform For Routine Of Cloistered Convent

(International News Service)
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 24.—From a throaty torch song to the chant of the litany: from swing tunes to psalms.

From, indeed, all the din and liveliness of a dance band platform to the ethereal, sedate calm of a cloistered convent.

Fiction boasts nothing more strange than the bridging of that gulf by six rangerettes, members of a widely known girl orchestra, who were settling today into the routine of the Blessed Sacrament convent here as novices.

The irrevocable step was taken by Mrs. W. Jones and her four pretty daughters, Dorothy, Evelyn, Hazelton and Gladys, along with Willem Gray.

Without a quiver the six laid aside their boots and bangles, their wide-brimmed Stetsons and bright kerchiefs for the somber, rustling robes, thin black veils, white starched collars and cuffs of the religious order.

Miss Jerry McCrae, left a band leader without a band by their decision, explained today that her erstwhile followers had long planned the step.

Athletic trainer warns young folks

NO ORDINARY SOAP STOPS "B.O." AS LIFEBOUY DOES!

William H. MacFarland, of Philadelphia, has spent 37 years as an athletic trainer—keeping thousands of youngsters fit. He insists that cleanliness is one of the first rules of health—and a big aid to romance...

"Most athletes prefer Lifebuoy. It gives them such a clean, 'pepped-up' feeling. I always carry Lifebuoy and pass it out to the youngsters in the locker room..."

"Cleanliness is my first rule of health, and Lifebuoy my invaluable aid... There's nothing like its purifying lather! It removes germs as well as dirt, helps protect health..."

"Many times have I served as confidant. From these experiences I have found that 'B.O.' is a great obstacle in the path of romance. I tell youngsters no other soap protects them as Lifebuoy does."

ATHLETES, housewives, doctors, society women, nurses, business girls, salesmen, lawyers—actually millions of men and women in all walks of life, depend on a daily bath with Lifebuoy to keep them safe from "B.O."—free from any likelihood of offending... Because of their confidence, Lifebuoy is today America's leading bath soap.

And Lifebuoy deserves its place as America's favorite bath soap. For no ordinary soap can stop "B.O." in your daily bath as Lifebuoy does... No ordinary soap gives your skin the same refreshed, extra-clean feeling. No ordinary soap gives you that confidence you're thoroughly protected! You see, Lifebuoy contains an exclusive purifying ingredient not in any other popular toilet or bath soap.

This ingredient makes Lifebuoy a more thorough cleanser—and increases its mildness... That's why fastidious, clear-skinned women rely on its gentle lather for complexion care.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

No Saturation Point Reached

Market Conditions Are Merely Unbalanced, Washington Observer States

CONDITION MAY NEVER BE SEEN

General Press Bureau
Washington, Jan. 24.—One of my esteemed readers writes in, taking exception to a reference I recently made to the "saturation" of certain of our markets—that is to say, so large a supply of products on hand that demand cannot absorb any more of them, thus forcing a slow-down in production until consumer demand has had time to assimilate some of the already existing accumulation.

This critic takes the position that there can be no such thing as an oversupply of merchandise generally until everyone has as much of everything as he would like to have if he could pay for it—which, my reader, submits, will be never.

No true statement ever was made by anyone.

All I intended to imply was that a market reaches the saturation point at the limit of its customers' ability to continue buying.

UNBALANCED PRODUCTION

I do think that there may be unbalanced production—an unmarketable volume of some things; a shortage of others.

Long ago, in the then developing northwest, where I grew up, we had a country newspaper editor of the name of Charlie Collins—a very public-spirited chap and a religious man, who often was asked to lead in prayer at one or another of the local meeting houses.

I recently saw this story reprinted by a fellow columnist, but it's a chestnut of half a century's standing, and it originated with Charlie Collins.

There was a local depression. Many folk were suffering. The pastor of the First M. E. church, if I remember correctly, invited Charlie to pray for them. He responded readily.

THE PRAYER

"I beg, Heavenly Father," he said reverently, "shelter and clothing for each family in this community. I beg for fuel for each of them. I beg, for each of them, a barrel of flour, a barrel of pork, a barrel of salt and a barrel of pepper."

"No, no, Heavenly Father, I mis-spoke, that's too much pepper."

That's what I would call an unbalanced—an oversaturation of pepper requirements in Charlie's community.

Improved shelter, warmer clothes, lots of fuel and more flour and pork would have been preferable; not quite so much salt and pepper, Charlie, on a second thought, recognized it.

DISCOVERIES HELP

Of course an apparent oversupply of something may have an immediate demand created for it by the discovery of some new method of utilizing it.

For example, we are supposed to have an oversupply of farm products.

At this juncture Henry Ford suggests that autos can be made out of wheat chaff and stuff, as well as out of steel, or cetera. If so, here's a big boon for wheat chaff—and let the wheat go hang, as a by-product.

STEWART'S VIEW

As to Henry Ford?

I wouldn't accept him as an authority on the subject of geography or history. I've talked with him on both issues.

But, as to what autos can be made out of?

Nobody mortal could convince me, nobody. If he says they can be made out of wheat chaff, they CAN.

And, heaven knows, I would rather be hit by a blower made out of wheat chaff than out of some other more substantial material.

I'd think that the substitution of wheat chaff for steel in the automobile industry might becloud steel's outlook. However, that's steel's funeral.

READER'S SUGGESTION

But to get back to my initial critic:

"Why not," he inquires, "detail a number of intelligent men and women to go out and mingle with the 'lower classes'?" Stipulating that they must earn their own way, unaided by political influence. Or, better yet, that the names be added to the relief rolls for a long enough period to destroy the rosy haze that now obscures their vision.

"These people to stay for a specified time and give an accurate report when their time is up."

"I offer this as an experiment to end experiments—a fact-finding expedition that should give those who were raised on a gold spoon a bit of food for reflection."

HIS INCOME

"I'm not," adds this correspondent, "on relief, but I have been."

"Now I'm holding down a position for which I receive a salary far below the $100 monthly which someone has said was the minimum amount necessary for comfort in this country. On this stipend I support two people. Have I a large surplus on which to satisfy my demand for American products?"

"Yet I give sincere thanks that I am much better off than many thousands of others."

Michigan Prose Writer Nabbed By Motor Police

Motor Policeman Contends That Dr. Paul De Kruij Was Doing 70 Miles

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Pennsylvania's speed net was revealed today to have caught, among 34 other out-of-state motorists, Michigan's author-bacteriologist of "microbe hunting" fame, Dr. Paul De Kruij.

De Kruij's name appeared on the latest list of persons arrested for violating Pennsylvania's 50-mile-an-hour speed law. And under the new license suspension order of Gov. George H. Earle, he is to be summoned before a speeder's court in Pittsburgh.

The Holland, Michigan, author whose prose dramatizations and the scientific battle against contagious diseases have become best-sellers, paid a fine of $12.50 for driving 70 miles an hour through Delaware county on January 16, authorities said. He was arrested by Pvt. R. V. Comstock of the State Motor Police, and pleaded guilty to the violation.

Suit Is Filed For $22,000 Damages

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 24.—A suit to recover $22,000 has been brought by Joan Jarrett, a minor, through her father, Charles Jarrett, of New Castle, and the father in his own right against H. P. and Christine Forker, 58 Forker Place, Sharon.

The child makes her home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Patton, Sharon. The action is the result of an alleged attack by a dog belonging to the defendants, which occurred in front of the Forker home, October 27, 1936.

It is alleged that the child received several lacerations during the attack. It also claims that the dog was known to be vicious and permitted to run at large.

The daughter is asking $20,000 and the father $2,000.

Three important roads are occupying the attention of the county commissioners at the present time. Number one on the list is route 224, between Edenburg and Hillsville which is nearly ready for contract. The other two are the proposed roads from New Castle to Pittsburgh by way of Ellwood City and Pottsville and the short strip between Edenburg and the Ohio line.

The commissioners will have a conference with Joseph E. Burke, district engineer of the State Highway department in Pittsburgh relative to route 224. A compromise has been offered by the state highway department in which they will assume all damages if the county will pay over a lump sum to the department. This would iron out all difficulties over the building of a small bridge on the route, relieve the commissioners of any more trouble over property damages and insure the building of the highway this spring.

The other two roads are important but yet in the formative stage. Both of them would reduce mileage between New Castle and Pittsburgh and New Castle and Youngstown. The commissioners are co-operating with the Junior Chamber of Commerce and private individuals interested in the roads and something may come of the work already done.

Stack representative of the Department of Revenue Bureau of Personal Property, will be in the municipal building of Ellwood City, January 26 and February 2, to assist taxpayers in running out their personal property tax returns. He will be back in the court house at New Castle on January 27-28-29 to aid taxpayers. The personal property tax amounts to eight mills on money at interest, that is mortgages, certain stocks and bonds. Many stocks are exempt particularly Pennsylvania stocks. Others not Pennsylvania stocks are also exempt. Mr. Stack has the list of stocks that are exempt.

The number of dog tags issued by County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland has now reached a total of 4500. This is about half of the number of dogs in this county. Dog Enforcement Officer William Goehring is determined to enforce the law, and a lot of pets are going to be exterminated and their owners subjected to heavy fines unless they get tags.

In an order of court handed down by Judge W. Walter Barham on Saturday, February 13, has been a divorce court for Lawrence county. Other days included in the order are March 4, June 3, September 2 and December 30.

BESSEMER

AUXILIARY MEETING

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary of Earl J. Watt Post No. 636 will be held in the Legion Home on Monday evening, January 24th at eight, with Anna Ball, Ruth Bradley and Matilda Gwin as the social committee.

CHOIR REHEARSAL

The choir of the First Presbyterian church will hold their regular weekly rehearsal in the auditorium of the church on Monday evening at 8. Miss Elizabeth Macklin, organist; Joseph H. Martin, director.

SURPRISE PARTY

The members of the Birthday club of 1937, gathered at the home of Mrs. W. F. Grimes, of Fifth street, on Friday evening, and tendered her a surprise party on the occasion of her anniversary of her birthday on January 21. There was a very good attendance despite the inclemency of the weather. The evening was spent in games and social chat. Refreshments were served by the committee. The honor guest received a variety of beautiful gifts. The club presented her with remembrances.

BESSEMER NOTES

Philip Gallo, who has been confined to his home for sometime, remains about the same at this writing.

Mrs. Michael Zaccari, Mrs. Sequite of Butler, Pa., motored here to spend the week end with the former's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Gagliano and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gagliano; Nufrio Bartolone, Mrs. Leonard Bartolone and son Frank, John Dillulo motored to West Pittsburgh and attended the funeral rites of John Rapone on Saturday morning.

One Bride In Triple Ceremony Seeks Divorce

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 24.—A triple marriage ceremony hardly six months old found its way into the divorce court at Warren, just across the state line Saturday.

Mrs. Ida Kover Kale, 21, who, with her two sisters, came to Sharon last July 31 to avoid Ohio's waiting law, filed suit for divorce against her husband, Robert Kale, 22, Warren auto mechanic. He drinks to excess and stays out late at night, according to Mrs. Kale's charges.

The other two sisters, Mrs. Matilda Kover McDewitt and Mrs. Irene Kover Crane, both of Warren, are still very much in love.

The three couples were married here by the Rev. J. A. Cousins, Methodist minister.

Muscular Rheumatic Pains

It takes more than "just a salve" to draw them out. It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old Musterole—soothing, warming, penetrating and helpful in drawing out the local congestion and pain when rubbed on the aching spots.
Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly. Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster, Musterole has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

DOUBLE FEATURE 2 GREAT HITS!

Well, Mary, That Was a swell show! I wonder if the second one will be as enjoyable. Boy, there's nothing so restful as a couple of good movies . . . especially when I've had such a busy day at the office. But I wonder if the old eyes can stand the strain of a second one? I have a slight headache now!

I Know It's Not Over, but my head is splitting! The glare of that screen just forces my eyes shut. Let's go, Mary! If I stay another minute I'll go blind! I've noticed by eyes bothering me a little at the office, and I thought I had a headache during the first show. Maybe I ought to take your advice and see the Optometrist at Gerson's first thing in the morning.

MARY WAS RIGHT!
These new glasses really let my eyes stand up under the strain! I saw two of the best movies of the season last night, and not a trace of the old head-splitting eye-strain! Believe me, Doctor, I'm having you check my eyes twice a year from now on! Then bring on your double-features any and every night!

DOUBLE-FEATURE movies are only one cause for the increase in eye-strain. Gerson offers you practical and rapid means to overcome its unpleasant effects. See C. Lee Mellinger, Doctor of Optometry in charge, for corrective lenses that let you enjoy more.

One Of Newest Of New York Eating Shops Features Old Fashioned Tidbits

TIPPLERS GO IN FOR BRANDY

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(Daily News Service.)—A new eating shop, called the "Tipplers," has opened in New York City, featuring old-fashioned tidbits and a large selection of brandy.

O. O. McIntyre, who has been a frequent visitor to the "Tipplers," says he has been a frequent visitor to the "Tipplers" since it opened. He says he has been a frequent visitor to the "Tipplers" since it opened. He says he has been a frequent visitor to the "Tipplers" since it opened.

The newest of the avenue restaurants is Stouffer's, which has establishments in several other cities. It is a new type of eating place, a blend of the old and the new, a blend of the old and the new, a blend of the old and the new.

The maddest of the night club

zannes continues to be Jack White. He is a graduate of the baseball park where 20 years ago he began to razz visiting players at the Polo Grounds, and employs practically the same technique in shouting down customers who float in the word, for they are usually in a haze—also has tiny tepee on West 52d street in the early morning.

Bats report a sudden uptake in brandy drinking. No one seems to know exactly why. Before prohibition brandy was confined largely to an after-dinner bouquet at formal parties or to old duffers chucking a night cap in their club lounge. But today the youngsters, male and female, so far as not only before meals but after and long into the night. Cognac, too, has become the base of a number of drinks packed with giddypap. So great is the demand that one place in the East 60s makes a low as The Brandy Bar.

The most accomplished brandy drinker was a star of the silent films. Long use of the powerful drink had given him the chronic shakes unless he was under influence. Alan Dwan used to direct him in handsome devil parts and it was necessary for him to down a half pint or so before facing the camera so he could be filmed. So great were his tremors. Oddly, he is still around, and when I saw him a year or so ago he was imbibing deeply of his favorite beverage. I was telling a young intern in a psychopathic ward about this particular case one day. And he remarked emphatically: "I know about them. But one day they go out with the horrors!" Yet there are cognac drinkers who have appetites under control. Clemenceau's only tipple was a spoonful of brandy in a little warm milk nightly. A ride he indulged before going to bed for 60 years.

Bagatelles: Cholly Knickerbocker, the syphilis, has shucked off 28 pounds. Alfred Vanderbilt, America's No. 1 turfman, never makes a bet on a horse race. Rupert Hughes usually begins writing around midnight, puffing black cigars and sucking himself up with strong black coffee. Martha Deane likes to dine alone in the quiet tea-rooms. Uncle Don, after 10 years on the radio, is said to be the best fixed financially of all those who began at the same time. Lee Owell started his career as a magazine illustrator.

Top laugh of winter: That mighty bugler caparisoned in gold braid and wearing a tall fur hat, on a beautiful charger, who lifted his bugle to open the fashionable horse show—and bugled only a thin canary-like cheep!

Large Part Of Apple Crop Is Still In Storage

Orchardist Says 30,000 Bushels Held In Lawrence County —Still Apples Are Shipped In

H. W. Newman of the State road, east of the Fair grounds, says there was an apple crop this year of approximately 60,000 bushels, gathered from the orchards of Lawrence county.

His crop was about 2,500 bushels, and he has one of the best storage places in Western Pennsylvania, on his place. Between 5,000 and 10,000 bushels of the county's crop were placed in cold storage, and there still remains about 7,000 bushels, and also 23,000 in the apple-growers' own places of storage. Thus there are 30,000 bushels to be sold, he says. Mr. Newman also states that relief orders are sent to persons in Harrisburg, such being orders on stores here for a certain quantity of apples. He declares that these relief apples are sent here from Pittsburgh and elsewhere.

Mr. Newman has talked with other county apple-growers, and finds that they were not consulted by any of the state authorities, with regard to furnishing the relief apples for this county, or given any chance to share in this distribution, he says.

Local wage earners who have lost their social security account number cards may now obtain duplicates from the New Castle office of the Social Security Board in the Johnson building. It was announced today.

Formerly duplicates of account number cards, issued in connection with the federal old-age insurance program, could be obtained only from Washington. The board now has instructed field office managers to issue duplicates, upon proper identification, to workers who have lost their cards.

Field Manager Welland J. Michael added:

This service to workers who have lost their cards has been established to help them obtain employment. Reports from all parts of the country indicate the board has informed us that employers are giving preference to job applicants having account number cards. This may be due to the fact that if an employee fails to obtain an account number the employer must, under federal treasury regulations, apply for a number for each new worker.

The worker is required to include both the worker's name and his account number in periodic reports of the worker's wages which he files with the treasury.

Twenty Two Day Fast Of Rev. Noe Is Broken By Force

Gets Treatment After Collapse

Taken To Memphis Hospital—Condition Serious—May Recover, However

FAMILY ORDERS TREATMENT GIVEN

(International News Service)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 24.—The 22-day fast broken by force, the Rev. Israel Harding Noe was under treatment today at the Baptist hospital here.

At first reported in a critical condition from his vain attempt to achieve immortality of the flesh, it was later said he had rallied amazingly.

Friends, including the ousted dean of St. Mary's Episcopal Cathedral and hospital attaches refused to comment on whether his voluntary abstinence of food and water had impaired his health to the danger point.

Collapsed Last Night
He collapsed at the country last evening and was in a coma when rushed to the hospital. It was stated at an early hour that he had little chance for recovery.

A close friend, however, was later admitted to the hospital room and reported Rev. Noe did not appear in a critical state and spoke rationally to him.

The exact nature of the medical treatment to rebuild his strength was not revealed but the family, it was learned, had authorized physicians to disregard the man's feeble protests and feed him intravenously.

Rev. Noe appeared near the break-point yesterday when he attended the church from which he had been removed midway in his ascetic desire to prove nourishment immaterial to life.

Wan and gaunt, he listened gravely to Rev. Royden Keith Yerkes attack intemperate methods of interpreting the word of God.

National Council Of Jewish Women Start Convention

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—Some 500 delegates from the United States and Canada today were assembled here in the National Council of Jewish Women's 15th Triennial convention.

A vast program of education to guide the country "at the cross roads of peace and war" was urged by the council's president, Mrs. Arthur Brin. In an opening address, which was accompanied by an address by Mrs. Hannah G. Solomon, 86-year-old founder of the organization.

Education of the people to a conviction that the world, being interdependent, must settle its disputes in a non-violent manner was the task of all organized women, said Mrs. Brin.

Another speaker at the convention's opening session was Rabbi Solomon E. Freehof who pleaded for tact and understanding within the American nation to dissolve threats of anti-Semitism existent here.

The convention will continue through Friday.

Plan Anti-Trust Suit Against Movie Companies

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1938)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The federal government shortly will file suit against the major motion picture companies and present charges that they have violated the anti-trust laws.

A high justice department official disclosed today that evidence gathered during a year-long investigation of the movie industry has been placed before Attorney General Cummings and Robert H. Jackson, chief of the anti-trust division and spearhead in the administration's drive against monopolies.

Some time will be required by Cummings and Jackson to study the data assembled by federal agents. The official predicted, however, that "we may be in the courts on this matter within three months."

In its suit, the government will accuse the film firms of discriminating against independent exhibitors in the distribution of motion pictures.

WILL SERVE IN HAWAII
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—Major Melvin L. Craig of Butler has been ordered to a term of foreign duty, the war department reports.

Major Craig, an officer in the 7th field artillery, is now stationed at Fort D. A. Russell, Texas. He will sail from San Francisco on or about April 20 for duty with the field artillery in Hawaii.

A FARM or half a Farm?

WHAT will be the condition of your farm 10 years from now—20 years—40 years? Is it steadily improving or going down hill?

To farmers who offer sound security and are good credit risks we readily lend money to purchase farm land, make permanent improvements, pay old debts and for a number of other purposes. The money is available at low interest rates, with as long as 30-year terms to pay. Small annual or semi-annual payments gradually retire the loan.

John Seinkner Is Elected Head Of New Organization

Popular South Side Young Man Will Head Civic And Social Organization

John Seinkner will be the president of the newly created South Side civic and social organization for the year of 1938, it was announced today. The organization was formed for the betterment of athletics and social and civic enterprises on the South Side.

Edward Redman was named as vice president, and the duties of treasurer will be capably handled by Michael "Jake" Babovsky. Andy Yesenski will be the recording secretary. The purpose of the club or organization is to lend support to the South Side Board of Trade and co-operate with this body in their various enterprises.

Adam Pzeny, a prominent South Side business man, will serve on the rules committee and is the sole sponsor of the organization, one that promises to grow into a strong group in a few years.

Seinkner is a noted developer of young baseball players, and for many years was a star performer himself. Under his guidance the South Side Civic and Social club hopes to make great strides in the year of 1938.

The following officers will serve for 1938:

President, John Seinkner.
Vice president, Edward Redman.
Treasurer, Michael Babovsky.
First trustees, Louis Dudek, Tony Moskal.
Recording secretary, Andy Yesenski.

Rules committee, Mickey Slosser, Nick, Louis Dudek, Edward Redman, Adam Pzeny.

Social committee, Mickey Slosser, Nick, Walter Gierlach, Frank Mateja, J. J. Mahalic, Joe Seinkner.

Sun Oil Company To Spend Large Sum, Is Reported

Plan To Spend $11,000,000 To Expand Plant During Year Of 1938

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—The Sun Oil Company will spend $11,000,000 in plant expansion and development during 1938 on its refineries at Marcus Hook, Pa., and Toledo, O.

J. Howard Pew, president, announced today. The new program will be directed not only toward increasing present plant capacities but adapting them to new refining processes, which permit larger recoveries from crude oil and reduced refining costs, Pew explained.

"Practically the entire expenditure will go into wages for labor," Pew asserted. "About two million man-hours of labor will be required in the erection of plant and structures in addition to employment in producing the materials," the official said.

State Labor Board Law Under Attack

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Another attack upon a 1937 legislative creation—this time the State Labor Relations Board Act—comes before the Dauphin county court here tomorrow.

Brought by Samuel Spungen, Harrisburg, owner of Spungen's Abattoir, the challenge of the labor board's constitutionality came as an appeal from a board order directing Spungen to reinstate three employees on the ground they had been dismissed for union activity. Board hearings on the original case dated back to last October.

The constitutional test case, it was said, will hold that the act constitutes an improper exercise of police power, constitutes special legislation in that it denies a jury trial, seeks to place judicial authority in the executive branch of the government, and is in defiance of due process clause rights of employers.

Kane High Wins Skiing Tourney

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa. Jan. 24.—Kane high school today was the winner of the first interscholastic ski tournament of the season in Pennsylvania, defeating Bradford high 20-7.

The meet, held Saturday, turned into a dual meet when 20 other high schools, invited to send teams, neglected to do so when thawing conditions in other localities discouraged entry.

The 2,200-foot elevation of Kane, atop Allegheny mountain, preserved the snow, although conditions were slow with the temperature slightly above freezing.

Donald Blair, 15, of Kane, starred with firsts in the slalom and cross country events. Dick Rockwell, Kane, won the down mountain race. All times were slow.

Salt has been in use for many ages and in all civilizations. For the traffic in salt, some of the oldest of trade routes came into use. The early Indians, although not as great salt users as the civilized races, felt the need for it and obtained it at the licks and salt springs found in many places.

In Detroit Alger Story Murder

Mrs. Edith Mae Cummings (left) who in 1929 rose from a $25-a-week position as telephone operator to become a millionaire through real estate operations, was shot and killed on the banks of a creek near Detroit. Police say Mrs. Julia Barker (right), another real estate operator, has admitted the slaying. Both were under indictment in a Kentucky land swindle. (Central Press)

Tax Returns In State To Be Hit

Personal Property Tax Yield Will Be Seven Million Short Of Last Year's Return

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Pennsylvania's personal property tax collections this year will yield seven million dollars less than had been estimated by optimistic budget-makers last spring, it was indicated today.

A decline in the market values of stocks plus high collection estimates at the time when the budget was prepared were ascribed as the reason for the anticipated shortage by Secretary of Revenue J. Griffith Boardman.

One of the principle revenue producers, the personal property tax has been budgeted to pour 32 million dollars into the state treasury during a two-year period beginning June 1, 1937. At the time the estimate was made, it was based on continued recovery which boosted values of securities on which personal property tax is levied.

WOMAN DIES AS RESULT OF FALL

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. Jan. 24.—Authorities today ruled as accidental the death of Miss Mary Miller, 57, who was killed when she fell from a hotel window.

She was said to have been washing a window on the second floor of the Commercial Hotel at Patton when she lost her balance.

Buy American Campaign Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A national "Buy American" drive was urged by Representative Jennings Randolph (Dem.) of West Virginia. Contending that the country is being flooded with foreign-made goods, Randolph cited the "Buy American" campaign launched in Morgantown, W. Va., and also called for tariff investigations to be used in barring cheap imports. He said in the Congressional Record:

"The United States is being flooded at the present time with foreign-made goods, while our American-made goods lie unused on the shelves.

This practice would soon stop if the public in general would follow the leadership of the people of Morgantown and demand that purchases be made from American factories."

Relief Demand Mounts In State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Pennsylvania's net increase in relief cases continued its steady course the week ending January 15, when a rise of 6,796 cases or 26,985 persons was shown on the direct dole lists, the Public Assistance Department reported today.

Following the sudden case load imposed upon the commonwealth January 1 when the assistance department took over the county poor board cases, the second week's increase showed only 142 poor board cases as compared with 10,526 the previous week. On January 15 the total relief load was 304,873 cases or 664,887 persons.

Losses in private employment continued as the dominant factor in the relief additions, while an increase was shown in the number of direct relief cases closed because of WPA employment, the department said. Direct relief expenditures for the week totalled $1,569,983.

USE CELERY TOPS

Leftover celery tops, if covered with three inches of water and left to simmer for 20 minutes in a covered pan, make tasty stock for soups. Recommended also combined with milk for oyster stew.

Boyhood Days!

Boyhood Days! the best days we ever saw. Some boys were playing "hockey" near Shadyside avenue, Saturday.

Their ages ranged between seven and ten years. The "puck" was a tomato can, and the other tools were broomsticks. On one side were the "horns", on the other the "yellow-jackets", the names must have portended something.

They went into the game with zest and all the strength in their little bodies. Were they daunted or deterred by slipping on the ice, or when the "puck" landed in a pool of water, no shree, they kept right on while the water went up like geysers.

The small crowd of spectators cheered the boys on. Several of the boys "swiped" a good deal at the puck and often missed, but one boy put his right hand forward on his stick and maneuvered the puck, confusing his opponents, away from the attack, and a splendid ground game.

The hockey teams scouts had better keep an eye on him as a future star. We enjoyed the game, and our memory took us back to the time when we played a spirited game of football, using a "football" made of a stocking stuffed with rags and paper.

Ohio Couple Killed As Train Hits Car

MARYSVILLE, O. Jan. 24.—James Herd, 60, agriculturist and sheep breeder in nearby Liberty township, and his wife were killed Sunday afternoon when their car was struck by a New York Central passenger train at the Hoover crossing between Raymond and Lunda in Union county.

Mr. and Mrs. Herd were on their way to the home of their son, Ralph Herd, in Liberty township, and apparently did not see the train in time to stop.

Ten Passengers And Driver Hurt When Bus Crashes

Buffalo To Pittsburgh Bus Crashes Into Culvert And Burns

(International News Service)
WARREN, Pa., Jan. 24.—Ten passengers and the driver of a Buffalo-to-Pittsburgh bus were recovering today from minor lacerations and bruises received when their vehicle left the highway Sunday near Youngsville, crashed into a culvert, overturned and burst into flames.

Two passengers, Mrs. Louis Dolinger of Baltimore, Md., and Miss Carrie J. Cox of Buffalo, and the driver, Louis Mintz, of Buffalo, are in the General Hospital here for treatment. The others were treated and discharged yesterday.

All the passengers left the bus before it caught fire. L. G. Forbes, state motor policeman, said the driver told him the bus suddenly became unmanageable after something went wrong with the steering mechanism.

Approve Of Reed For Supreme Court

Senate Judiciary Committee Will Report Favorably On Nomination

(Washington, Jan. 24.—The nomination of Solicitor General Stanley F. Reed to be a justice of the supreme court was unanimously approved by the Senate Judiciary committee today and ordered reported favorably to the senate.

The favorable action on Reed, appointed by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Justice Sutherland, will be reported by Senator Logan (D-Kentucky), head of a judiciary subcommittee that originally passed on the nomination.

The committee in executive session, was reported to have given Reed its approval a few minutes after the meeting was called. Eight members of the committee were present.

Two Are Killed In Plant Blast

Explosions Occur At Plant At Deepwater, N. J.—Cause Unknown

(International News Service)
DEEPWATER, N. J., Jan. 24.—In a jumble of twisted steel and concrete, investigators today sought the answer to a series of ten explosions which wrecked an E. I. duPont de Nemours building, killed two men seriously injured a third and shattered windows five miles away.

The dead were Charles Forshey, 30, of Central Park N. J., burned and horribly twisted and torn, and Earl Hale. Next death was Raymond Hale, not related to the other Hale. The three were repair men sent with Harry Buckingham, 32, to check up a reported gas leak in the Synthetic Rubber Manufacturing plant. Buckingham was blown through a door by the first blast and suffered only superficial cuts and bruises.

Property loss was tentatively estimated at $70,000.

SENIOR HIGH CLASS HAS BACCALAUREATE

The huge congregation sang two numbers in the service, "Abide With Me" and "Sun of My Soul."

Baccalaureate Address

"Conquer the world of moral achievement" was the challenge the seniors' speaker thrust out as he described the wide frontiers that still remain for youth. He said the saddest thing about the world's progress so far is that "our progress in human character has not kept pace with our progress in scientific knowledge."

Message Of Minister

Rev. Rose in his baccalaureate sermon, declared in part:

"There are ambitious youth today who are longing for adventure, for a thrilling experience, but they say, 'We have no frontiers to conquer, the frontiers days have past, all has been conquered, our fathers had all the fun and now we are left to live pretty much of a cut and dried life.' This many of our youth have come to assume a fatalistic attitude toward life. 'What's the use,' they say. Many have come to believe that their future is so fixed and so veiled that they are helpless to change it."

"I trust that none of you young people have any such foolish notions about your future. You know that your life will be just what you make it. You know that you can enter into God's plans or you can thwart those plans. You know that you cannot sow ragsweed seed and expect to reap chrysanthemums. You know that you cannot sow evil habits and expect to reap respectability and an enjoyable old age. You know that I don't have to preach to you. You know that your future, your fortune or your misfortune is not to be found in a deck of greasy cards, or in the shape of your head, nor is it engraved on the palm of your hand. But rather it is engraved upon the tables of your heart in the invincible resolutions of your spirit. Young people, you are captains of your soul and of its destinies. You can guide it where you will, and you can drop anchor in any port you choose. Life can be a drag affair for you or it can be a series of thrills, it will be just what you make it. Your parents can help your education will help you, in the last analysis it is up to you. Life's successes are from within, not from without."

"I believe that young people want to live a thrilling life, that you want to press on toward some goal, that you want to conquer frontiers, that you want to get a 'kick' out of life. I think that is the desire of every young person and a perfectly natural desire. If you haven't enough red blood in your veins to want a thrill, to seek adventure, then I am ready to recommend you to the 'Old Ladies Home.' Young people, seek a thrill and more power to you! Go out and take your place in the frontiers of modern life and there press on toward the goal and there you shall accomplish for mankind what others have failed to do."

Holds Faith In Youth

"When I speak of youth, I refer to that class of young men and women who are living normal lives, ever pressing toward the goals of Jesus Christ and of mankind. I believe that such youth can conquer, because such youth is capable."

It was youth that launched the greatest movement the world has ever known Jesus Christ never at tempted to win the world with a group of aged men. He did not call Nicodemus, Joseph or Annanias, or Zebedee. He called young men like James and John. Christ selected these men because they were young and capable rich in imagination, in faith, in physical capacity to stand the strain required of those who

Nazarene Church Hardly Big Enough Sunday Afternoon

People Turned Away On Sunday, Little Church Being Capacity-full

Large crowds are attending the revival at the Nazarene church, Sunday afternoon when the Long quartet's life story was told the church was packed to capacity and hundreds were turned away. Sunday evening the church was packed and when Prof. Claude Long sang the beautiful "The Old Family Church," the soul of every person present was stirred. At the close of Rev. Lou Mersheimer's sermon, there were 14 people at the altar.

The Long quartet is offering a unique program this week. Tonight six rows of seats will be reserved for the elderly people and the old gospel songs will be sung in honor of this section. Lillian Long will have a high musical solo.

Tuesday night "Echoes from the Cross" with music by the quartet and an accordion solo by Mrs. Lou Milton. Wednesday Prof. Long will sing his latest southern melody. Equally interesting services are planned for Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and for next Sunday. Friday will be Sunday School Night, with a special new chorus, "The Bear Story" by the evangelist, and Saturday will be request night.

Hamilton Will Sketch Plans Of Republican Party

National Republican Chairman Will Speak At Philadelphia, Tonight

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—National Republican Chairman John D. M. Hamilton was expected to sketch party plans for 1938 at a dinner gathering of 3,500 local affiliates in convention hall tonight.

Hamilton also will explain proposals made by the national committee for the approaching congressional elections in all parts of the country. Virtually all of those who hold tickets for the dinner, arranged by Philadelphia Republican Chairman Jay Cooke, are workers connected with the local GOP organization.

Hamilton will move out on to the frontiers. Do you think Florence Nightingale did not get a thrill from working with the soldiers in the Crimean war and from establishing the great nursing movement? Do you think J. Edgar Hoover is not getting a thrill from fighting crime? You know the list of good causes, war, liquor, child labor, white slavery, dope, a great list and here we sit, trying to get a thrill out of cheap amusements when those great humanitarian causes are calling for us.

The good rush may be past, the physical frontiers conquered, but there remains as yet the greatest of all, that world of moral triumph with its mastery of self and that world of social righteousness. Nine hundred years ago there came One tarry of great spiritual, moral and social frontiers, and saying, "Follow Me." That call comes to you tonight. It is the call of the greatest of all pioneers, "Go west" with Him and get a real thrill. Press on with Paul toward the goals of Christianity.

You seek adventure, a thrill, and may God bless you with a real one, but launch out into the deep, don't fish in shallow puddles.

WHITE IS AFTER SENATOR'S SEAT

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 24.—George White, twice governor of Ohio, weighed in today as a candidate for the democratic U. S. senatorial nomination; he will oppose Sen. R. J. Bulkley, the August primary.

White, born in Elmira, N. Y., worked as a youth in the oil fields near Titusville, Pa., and later made a fortune in the Klondike gold rush. In 1920 he was chairman of the Democratic National committee.

Ewing was hurt when his automobile crashed into another car on the Freedom-Rochester boulevard.

Frederick Christen, 67, of Industry suffered a fractured skull when struck by a hit-run driver on the Beaver-Midland highway. He was reported in a critical condition at the Rochester hospital.

OIL CHEMIST DIES

(International News Service)
FRANKLIN, Pa., Jan. 24.—Funeral services will be held here today for Dr. Pontus H. Conradson, widely known oil chemist who died here at the age of 86. Dr. Conradson, a native of Sweden, came to America in 1880 and became a resident here in 1890.

PEOPLE OF JAPAN ARE DETERMINED ON GREATEST NATION

The Japanese believe these articles of faith, but the task of the police is easy. They have only had to arrest sixty thousand Japanese for "dangerous thinking" in the last decade. Every year by natural increase, more than one million more Japanese are added to the right-thinking seventy million.

They look at those population statistics, and declare they must have more room, then must have more babies to fill up the room, and then still more territory for the extra babies, and so on without limit until Japan becomes the greatest nation ever known.

Around this regimented nation is a wall so high, so thick, that not the faintest vestige of a foreign thought, or information, or criticism can penetrate. Chief element in this wall is the Japanese language. It automatically seals the vast mass of the population away from any contact with the foreign world.

Can't Listen To Foreign Radio

No Japanese in Japan can hear or read an objective account of events abroad. It is a prison of sense to listen to a foreign radio program. Nobody but ambassadors are permitted to keep radio sets in Japan, and they are forbidden to receive foreign broadcasts. Even they are forbidden to allow their embassy staffs to listen in.

When I arrived in Kobe, the customs authorities took away from me every scrap of printed matter in English about China. Every traveler was required to hand in, in advance, a detailed list of every book, periodical, and pamphlet with a description of its contents. One French newspaperman who was moving to Tokyo with his library had to stay over in Kobe two days to prepare the list of his books.

Press Is Censored

The press is rigidly censored, and although the Japanese journalists are among the most enlightened of the population, and probably indulge in many "dangerous thoughts" because all journalists in every land have police repression, they nevertheless have no opportunity to inform themselves about the true state of affairs abroad.

Their only chance to do so is by intercourse with foreigners, and for that as well as other reasons the Japanese authorities are bent now upon eliminating as far as possible all whites from the country. The long-range policy of Asia for the Axis is paralleled by the local policy of Japan for the Japanese. By police measures, taxation, laws against the acquisition of property by foreigners, and the growth in the population of a fierce anti-foreign feeling, the despised white is hoped will eventually be pushed out.

Few Foreigners

They are getting out at the rate of 1,000 a year, and since Japan, of all the great powers, has by far the fewest foreigners, statistically within ten years every single white ought to be eliminated. To judge from the movement of whites out of Japan from the years 1930 to 1934, the last on record, Japan ought to be clean of all whites by the end of 1944.

Such complete perdition of course is not to be expected, but in 1930 there were 14,000 whites and in 1934 only 9,500 in Japan. Americans and British are being squeezed out most swiftly. The entire American population of Japan, according to official Japanese reports, receded from 3,640 in 1930 to 2,082 in 1934, and is doubtless much smaller now. The British declined from 3,144 to 1,953. Compared to these figures, the United States, for all its extension of Asiatic immigration, has an enormous Japanese population, namely 147,000.

Japan is rapidly approaching the condition of purity from contact with the contaminating foreigner which existed when the hermit empire was visited by the American Commodore Perry in 1853.

Easy For Government

Thus it is easy for the Japanese government to tell the Japanese people anything it likes and be confident that 99 per cent of the population will believe it. Today the number one booby is communism, and every enemy of Japan is designated communist.

Yet the communist party put an insuperable obstacle in its own path by rejecting the emperor. Had the Nippon communists been shrewd enough to include the emperor in their plans, which could have been done with much less trouble than might appear in western eyes, they might have utilized the burning devotion of the ultra-patriotic youth for their own purposes, and bent the Japanese religion of state and emperor worship into marxist form.

But like every foreign communist party, the Nipponese had to follow the east-west formula of Moscow's communist international, with the result that, having rejected the emperor, they were rejected by the people. Their leaders were all arrested in 1928, and subsequent new leaders jailed in the gigantic police raids of 1931. Communism has no chance in Japan until and unless Japan suffers a crushing military defeat. Especially if the Soviet union were to defeat Japan the chances for complete destruction of the present Japanese system, including the throne, and the coming of a communist revolution might in the opinion of most observers be great.

Would Be Dangerous Reds

As it is the term communist is now an epithet applied indiscriminately to all anti-imperial groups within Japan and to enemy nations without. This goes so far that we may be sure if we were ill-fated enough to have to go to war with Japan the Japanese people would be told that America is a communist country. And if Great Britain were the enemy, it would be that dangerous red, George VI, whom every patriotic Japanese would have to hate as an enemy of society.

Meanwhile the Soviet union, by and large, is the number one enemy for most Japanese. I took the night train from Tokyo to Tsushima, a little port of 19,000 population on the north coast of Japan, to embark on the S. S. "Siberia Maru," an 8,000 ton freighter, for Vladivostok. In Tsushima, I saw the face of true Japan, unblemished by foreigners.

It was an attractive face in many ways. The shops were so neat, the men and women so cheerful and industrious, the supplies of food so attractive, the display of that over the top comparatively poor little town made a bright impression. I found two Japanese who spoke English, one, the political policeman who traced the door and left me alone not one minute of my waking hours from the moment of arrival until he waved goodbye, and the other a local correspondent.

Hurt His Feelings

The plainclothes man was classically Japanese. For three hours he quizzed me in my cabin about

Earle Will Talk With President On Hard Coal Industry

Will Propose That Anthracite Ails Be Nationalized By Administration

(Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 24.—Gov. George H. Earle's proposal that Pennsylvania's ailing anthracite industry be nationalized was to be carried directly to President Roosevelt today.

Seeking support for what he termed the "only workable plan" to end the ailing hard coal industry, the chief executive was scheduled to make a personal plea to the president today. The governor said he had no appointment with the president but that he intended to call on him sometime today.

Planning to remain in the national capital for two days, Gov. Earle also announced his intent to confer with U. S. Senator Joseph R. Gurnea on the nationalization proposal.

Last week after a conference with hard coal operators and miners, the governor decided that federal ownership and regulation of the hard coal industry was the only solution to its recent problems.

Fishermen Against Suggested Plan To Delay Trout Season

State Fish Commission Would Delay Season Until May 1, Says "Feeler"

Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh Negro Heavyweight Is Headed Toward Title Is Belief

By DICK SHANER
HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—(Sport and Social)

Recently Pennsylvania fishermen don't think much of the idea of delaying the opening of trout season for two weeks as suggested by some of the members of the state fish commission. The state fish commission's plan to delay the opening of trout season from April 15 to May 1, has been met with a "feeler" from Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh Negro Heavyweight, who is believed to be headed toward the title.

On that is fairly certain, though the state of a fishing license will probably be passed in the spring. The present license cost $1.00. Not much, claim the fishermen, but the advance in cost at this time is a hardship. The advance in cost at this time is a hardship. The advance in cost at this time is a hardship.

TALES IN TIDBITS
By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Fears are expressed by some of our colleagues that the administration of Leland Stanford (Larry) MacPhail as general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers will chill baseball fanaticism.

Looking back at some of MacPhail's snappy innovations in Cincinnati, some of the scribes have become afflicted with the horrible apprehension that Larry will erect a summer ski slides in center field along with merry-go-rounds and perhaps a German band. I don't know any reason for the horror of ski slides. Most of the Brooklyn outfielders the last few years seemed to be wearing skis, and a slide might not be amiss.

What I am concerned about just now, says Larry, is more and better outfielders and a catcher. I haven't even thought of night baseball yet, or a merry-go-round. We are going to get a ball club.

That's fine, say Larry's severest critics. But where? St. Louis? One writer warns that if MacPhail buys any more from the Cardinals, MacPhail and Ricketts were at University of Michigan together. Ricketts installed MacPhail as general manager of the Columbus team of the American Association one of the Cardinals' chain stores. From there Larry went to Cincinnati where he did very well, not only financially but in building the team and the Reds' farm system, which is about ready to spew some ivory into the minors.

Dean, DiMaggio One Sectional Battle Tuesday And Gehrig Were Almost Kidnapped

Peter Anders, Public Kidnaper No. 1 And Partner Gray Spotted Players

THOUGHT BETTER OF "BIG SNATCH"

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The biggest sports sensation of 1937 never happened. "Dizzy" Dean, Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio were in three playing ball as the season ended but they had been marked for kidnapping by Peter Anders, who was revealed here today by "G-Man" J. Edgar Hoover.

Anders, who has confessed the kidnap-murder of Charles S. Ross, Chicago manufacturer, also has admitted, according to Hoover, that he considered snatching "Dizzy" holding him for $50,000 ransom, and that he followed the St. Louis Cardinals for several weeks with that idea in mind. He finally decided that the Cardinals' management wouldn't pay that much for "Dix" and abandoned the idea.

Abandon Plans
Urged by his partner in crime, James Atwood Gray, Anders then considered grabbing both DiMaggio and Gehrig. With the Yankees headed for the American League pennant and the World Series, he figured that Col. Jacob Ruppert would pay almost any price for ransom of the two stars once they had been spirited away.

And so while Gehrig and DiMaggio stood up to the place and batted 'em out, Anders and Gray sat in the stands licking their lips and figuring out how much they could get for the stars and what would be the best way to "put the snatch" on them.

But Anders' caution finally asserted itself and he told Gray—according to Hoover—"too much publicity in a snatch like that."

So the Yanks copped the pennant and the "Subway World Series" with Gehrig and DiMaggio in three playing ball and Gray and Anders went to Chicago and snatched a manufacturer who had plenty of money but whose kidnapping, they thought, wouldn't bring such a storm of publicity.

After trailing by four points in the opening chapter, the Mechanicals shifted into high gear beginning the second period and had little trouble lopping the Cold Draw 32 to 23 in the second game of the evening.

The Cold Draw topped the Mechanicals in baskets, but the latter were more accurate from the foul line and this paved the way for their ultimate victory.

First Round Leader Of Shelby League To Be Decided Tonight

Mechanical And Inspection Win Saturday Night's Games

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 24.—By a margin of only one point the Mechanicals came from behind in the final period to defeat the Cold Draw of the Shelby basketball league in an exciting game played on Saturday night at Lincoln court by a score of 32 to 31.

After trailing by four points in the opening chapter, the Mechanicals shifted into high gear beginning the second period and had little trouble lopping the Cold Draw 32 to 23 in the second game of the evening.

The Cold Draw topped the Mechanicals in baskets, but the latter were more accurate from the foul line and this paved the way for their ultimate victory.

Hazen, of the Inspection, was the "big shot" of the evening with 18 points to his credit, accounting for 18 points of his team victory edge, and incidentally this is the highest number of points scored by any one player in one game during the series.

Cavalier and Vandrell were outstanding for the Mechanicals; Barnes, Perucci, Stasick and Clyde for the Cold Draw; Tammara for the Cold Draw, and in addition to Hazen, Letano for the Inspection.

A dance followed the games from 10 until 12 o'clock with a popular orchestra providing appropriate music.

Two games of special interest are planned for tonight. In the main attraction the Hot Finish team and the Office will battle for the championship of the first round. For the preliminary game an all-star team comprised of the various teams in the league will play against the New Brighton Y. The prelim will begin at 7:30 p. m. Games are also scheduled on Wednesday and Saturday nights.

Mrs. Carl Hasbach Dies On Saturday

Funeral Services To Be Held Tuesday Morning From B. V. M. Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Minnie Hasbach, aged 63 years, wife of Carl C. Hasbach, passed away on Saturday night at 11 o'clock at her home, Park Avenue and Ninth Street, after an illness of several weeks' duration.

Mrs. Hasbach had been a resident of this city for many years and has many friends in this city who will regret to learn of her death.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by five sons, Henry C. Hasbach, Carl, William, Walter, and Joseph, all of whom are residing in this city. She also has two daughters, Rose Mary Hasbach at home and Mrs. Emil Schuster of Glendive, Mont., and two stepdaughters, Mrs. Harry Ott of Burleson, Tex., and Mrs. Thomas M. Ciokey of Seventh Street.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from the B. V. M. church on Fourth Street with Rev. Vincent Galliano officiating. Interment will be made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

"Zeke" Zickel and his running mate, Andy Segedi, closely followed by Schell were outstanding for the winners and Gross for the losers. A dance and banquet followed the game at the Cleveland German club.

Next Saturday night, Leran O. boys and girls will play at Lincoln high school gym.

BAPTIST PARTY
ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 24.—On Friday evening members of the Young People's Society of the First Baptist church will hold a box social in the church basement to which all members and friends of the society are invited.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 24.—Saturday evening the Ellwood City Country club was the scene of a delightful event when members and friends gathered for a dance. Many of the merry-makers were from various nearby towns.

Thirty-one couples enjoyed dancing for several hours to the strains of popular melodies played by a popular orchestra. Bruce W. Hunter, Jr., was in charge of the successful arrangements for the event.

A Valentine Day dance was planned for the next club activity.

Blocher Funeral Largely Attended

Last Rites For P. W. Blocher Held From Home And At Gettysburg

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 24.—Funeral services for Paul W. Blocher, whose death occurred at his home on Franklin Avenue Wednesday evening, after a lengthy illness, were held on Friday morning at 11 o'clock from the home, and Saturday morning at 11 o'clock from the Bender funeral home at Gettysburg.

Rev. P. H. DuBoussiek, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, assisted by Rev. L. J. Baker, pastor of the North Lima, O., Trinity Lutheran church, conducted the services in this city. The services were largely attended by bereaved relatives and friends and many beautiful floral offerings evidence the esteem and affection in which he was held.

At Gettysburg, the services were conducted by Dr. Herbert C. Allen, associated with the Gettysburg Academy and retired pastor of the Gettysburg Lutheran church. Many relatives and friends of the deceased and Mrs. Blocher attended the services in that city.

Palbearers were William J. Jones, H. R. Johnston, Dr. H. E. Helling, John Runyan, Dr. Charles Bascaglia and Robert Taylor, all of this city. Interment was made in the Ever Green cemetery at Gettysburg.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 24.—Ellwood City Junior Saxon boys traveled to Cleveland, O., on Saturday for their league game where the hometowners suffered their first defeat by the locals in their four years of rivalry, by a score of 49 to 38.

It was sweet revenge for the many defeats that this "jinx" team have handed the Ellwoodians in past meetings. This victory also snipped the locals' long string of defeats which it is hoped will again bring them back into the league as potential contenders as the second-half of the league open.

"Zeke" Zickel and his running mate, Andy Segedi, closely followed by Schell were outstanding for the winners and Gross for the losers. A dance and banquet followed the game at the Cleveland German club.

MOTHER'S ADVICE WAS TAKE VENDOL

Was So Nervous Feared A Breakdown. Would Lie Awake For Hours, Arise Next Morning Full Of Pains And Exhausted. Never Had Any Medicine Do So Much Good.

One of the worst symptoms of constipation is a restless, irritated feeling that not only makes you miserable but annoys others as well. Once the bowels start moving thoroughly, the nerves calm down and you are soon a happy, normal person again.

MRS. JOANNA KILEM

This was the experience of Mrs. Joanna Kilem, well known resident of 380 W. Market St., Warren, Ohio, who says:

"For months I was so nervous that it was hours before I could get to sleep. During the day I felt restless and jittery at the least little thing. My condition finally got so bad I was afraid of a nervous breakdown."

"My elimination was very poor and this brought on a host of other troubles such as gas on the stomach, dizzy spells, constipation, salivary prostration and pains in my limbs. My mother advised me to take Vendol, saying it had helped her, and I'm certainly glad I took her advice. This wonderful medicine brought genuine relief from constipation, then my nerves became steady and the other symptoms just disappeared. I have never felt better in my life, thanks to this wonderful medicine, and it is a real pleasure to recommend it to others."

The reason Vendol does so much good is because of its wonderful formula of Nature's Roots and Herbs to which is added mild Alkalies. Every time you take a dose of Vendol you get true, valuable medicine that brings results. Vendol is sold and highly recommended by the New Castle Drug Stores at 35 E. Washington St. & 21 N. Mill St.; Schweitzer's Pharmacy and Ellwood Cut Rate in Ellwood City; Weaver's Cut Rate in New Wilmington and by all leading druggists everywhere.

Cavalcante Wants Charges "Aired" At Harrisburg

(International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 24. — State Senator Anthony Cavalcante, today asked Governor George H. Earle to invite the press and public to an open hearing before the governor at which he said, he was ready to present his charges that police were being mixed with Civil Service appointments in Fayette county.

Cavalcante stated in a telegram to the governor that he stood ready to produce witnesses to prove his contention Democratic County Chairman Jacob Echarad had "created public impression that Civil Service jobs must be approved by him."

Echarad has flatly denied the charges, calling them "unfounded" and "trumped up."

An attractive street costume combines a black Persian lamb bolero with a straight skirt of black broadcloth. A wide red sash that wraps the waist twice and has fringed ends completes this ensemble.

Filibuster Buster

Senator Allen J. Ellender, of Louisiana, is shown eating a quick lunch after delivering a speech against the Anti-Lynching Bill which took him twenty-seven hours and forty-five minutes. The speech, with the necessary interruptions, took six days and set a record for filibusters to shunt at.
